DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to Applicant's Amendments, filed on July 17, 2003 have been considered but are deemed moot in view of new ground of rejections below.
2. Claims 1, 3, 5-8, and 13 are amended and claims 21-23 are newly added. Claims 18-20 are previously canceled.
3. Pending claims are 1-17 and 21-23.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-2, 4-12, 14, 16-21 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Combs (U.S. Patent No. 6,138,129) in view of Schwartz et al (U.S. Patent No. 5,905,988, hereinafter, "Schwartz").

With respect to claims 1, 8 and 21, Combs discloses, the system, and the method for enriching a document, a user interface (GUI, col. 3, lines 55-64) document editor for authoring the document, see (102, 104, fig. 1, col. 2, lines 45-64, disclosed system of Combs is a electronic document editing (converting) to HTML format or SGML format); directed search service for receiving input specifying a directed search while the document is authored with the document editor, see (define search/ link tag by user, col. 3, lines 45-67 to col. 4, lines 1-7); and inserting directed search in the document as a document service request, see (define search/ link tag, col. 3, lines 45-67 to col. 4, lines 1-7); directed search including search criteria (specifying target document, col. 3, lines 54-65), search result parameters (110, fig. 1, col. 3, lines 45-67 to col. 4, lines 1-7), see (col. 3, lines 45-67 to col. 4, lines 1-7); the result parameters including, location parameters (col. 3, lines 45-67 to col. 4, lines 1-7) identifying wherein the document the search results are to be inserted (col. 4, lines 65-67 to col. 5, lines 1-11) and form parameters (context, col. 3, lines 45-67 to col. 4, lines 1-7) specifying a form in which the search results are to be inserted into document, see (col. 3, lines 45-67 to col. 4, lines 1-7, col. 4, lines 8-22); meta-document server (disclosed system of Comb is searching for hyper-link information, hyper-link system provides meta-data, col. 2, lines 6-21) for performing the directed search specified in the document serviced request by querying the information providers specified in the search results parameters of the directed with the search criteria specified (specifying target document, col. 3, lines 54-65) in the directed search (112, fig.1, col. 5, lines 39-59) and inserting (generates links, col. 5, lines 25-49) search results in the document using the location parameters

Art Unit: 2172

(col. 3, lines 45-67 to col. 4, lines 1-7) and form parameters (col. 3, lines 45-67 to col. 4, lines 1-7) that identify location and the form to insert search results in the document (col. 3, lines 45-67 to col. 4, lines 1-7, col. 4, lines 8-22). Combs discloses the parameters identifying one or more information to perform the direct search and provide search results, see (col. 3, lines 45-67 to col. 4, lines 1-7). Combs does not explicitly disclose the information provider parameters identifying one or more information providers. However, Schwartz discloses the search parameters are accepted and selects search engine, see (col. 14, lines 20-54), which teaches that a user can specifies a parameter for a search engine (information provider) for performing searching and providing search results. Therefore, it would have been obvious a person having ordinary skill in the art the time invention was made to include the information provider parameters identifying one or more information providers of the system in Schwartz in the system in Combs to provide a user parameter to select information provider for searching and results. Because selecting information provider (search engine) can provide a user's choice to select search engine, which helps more accurate search results based on right areas to be searched.

With respect to claims 2 and 9, Combs discloses that the form parameters are one of a link, content, and metadata, see (col. 4, lines 1-30).

With respect to claims 4 and 12, Combs discloses that the information provide parameters include language, quality, quantity and cost, see (col. 3, lines 45-67 to col. 4, lines 1-7).

With respect to claim 5, Combs discloses that the search criteria include means for specifying information provides according to a user defined criteria, see (specifying target document, col. 3, lines 54-65).

With respect to claims 6 and 11, Combs discloses that the meta-document server performs the directed search using the search criteria and information provider parameters by fetching, filtering and summarizing the search results, see (col. 5, lines 39-67).

With respect to claims 7 and 10, Combs discloses, the parameter of the directed search specified in the document service request are defined in the document using XML tag, see (col. 2, lines 45-63).

With respect to claim 14, Combs discloses the exporting the document for import at other meta-document server, see (disclosed system of Comb is searching for hyper-link information, hyper-link system provides meta-data, col. 2, lines 6-21).

With respect to claim 16, Combs discloses, dictionaries of two services are equivalent if they map to the predefined categorization, see (col. 3, lines 1-28).

With respect to claim 17, Combs discloses, two keys of s service map if they both reduce to a common generic key, see (col. 3, lines 29-54).

6. Claims 3, 13 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Combs (U.S. Patent No. 6,138,129) in view of Schwartz et al (U.S. Patent No. 5,905,988, hereinafter, "Schwartz") in view of Sieffert (U.S. Patent No. 6,594,662, hereinafter, "Sieffert").

With respect to claims 3, 13 and 22, Combs does not explicitly disclose scheduler for selecting the document service request at the specified frequency and for initiating and managing communication with the information provides specified in the results parameters of the directed search. Sieffert discloses, search items that define a search for information and specify one or more of the network resources, a system executive that constructs a set of the resource identifiers scheduled to be searched and a set of the search items specifying at least one of the network resources corresponding to one of the resource identifiers of the constructed resource identifier set, a collection controller, for each of the resource identifiers of the constructed set of resource identifiers, the collection controller retrieving information presented by the networked resource corresponding to the resource identifier, see (col. 3, lines 24-44). This teaches to identify the frequency of searching (schedule to be searched) based parameters provided by user. Therefore, it would have been obvious a person having ordinary skill in the art the time invention was made to include scheduler for selecting the document service request at the specified frequency and for initiating and managing communication with the information provides specified in the results parameters of the directed search of Sieffert in the system in Schwartz and Combs to provide the frequency of schedule for search. Because the searching with schedule by frequency setting, provides obtaining of up-to-dated information without user interaction.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 15 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. Because the prior art (Combs U.S. Patent No. 6,138,129) teaches for importing a meta-document with creating hyperlink document. But the prior art does not teach the means for creating new meta-document with: first means for adding services in the new meta-document available at an importing meta-document server with services that map exactly to a predefined categorization; and for those services not added by the first adding means but specified in the exported meta-document, second means for adding services in the new meta-document available at the importing meta-document server with services that map partially to a predefined categorization, and have at least one dictionary and one key in common.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
